POLITICAL VIEWS OF GOV. SCOFIELD

Governor of Wisconsin Praises G. O. P. Administration at Wausau.

NOT AGAINST M'KINLEY

National Policy In China Is a Refutation of the Assertions About Militarism.

STATE ISSUES NOT TOUCHED

Wausau, Wis., Nov. 1.—Governor Scofield publicly gave the lie here last night to the frequent assertions that he is opposed to President McKinley's policy in the Philippines. This was the burden of a long address delivered by him at the invitation of the citizens of Wausau, and his utterances are of state wide interest,as it is the only time he has spoken from the rostrum during the present campaign.

Admitting that he was opposed from the start to the war with Spain, he made the broad assertion that since the beginning of hostilities the administration has done the best possible under the circumstances. He scouted the idea that militarism threatens the United States, and charged that the cry of imperialism is raised simply to divert the eyes of the voters from the national prosperity during the last four years.

La Follette Not Mentioned.

On state issues the governor had little to say and not once did he mention the name of Robert M. LaFollette, the republican nominee, as his successor. On the other hand, notwithstanding his well known feelings of hostility to Mr. La Follette on personal grounds, the governor at no time during his speech evidenced any sign of "soreness" over his party's state ticket.

Governor Scofield's Address.

"Never before, I think, in our history, except during the civil war," said the governorin opening, "have the people of this country had pressed upon them questions of greater importance. e might well consider these independently of partisan desire, but we should have disregard history and tance. We might well consider these the close relation which the republican party has ever borne to the great problems that have confronted the nation, and without a trace of partisan bias we may have a feeling of pride that this party has ever had the courage and intelligence to grapple with and solve the problems of the moment. It gives us renewed courage and strength to believe, therefore, that the responsibilities of today will be wisely borne and that the delicate relations abroad, in which the nation is involved, will be honorably treated.

For the Gold Standard.

"If permanence integrity and the least variation possible are what is demanded in a standard of value, it seems to me the business man of intelligence must determine that gold shall be the basis of our issue, inasmuch as the fluctation in its value is reduced to the minimum. So long as gold fluctuates the least—and we know that it has throughout the centuries since such a thing as a medium of exchange or standard of value was established by civilized countries—common sense would seem to require us to stick to the gold standard.

"Whatever the theories may be about the poor men geting a better show through the coinage of more money, or putting a cheaper issue upon the market, the poor man and the rich man alike must always give value received for what they get or are able to accumulate.

To Divert Attention.

"The democrats are assiduously trying to divert attention from their own political vagaries to what they term the republican policy of imperialism. As one who was opposed to the late war from the start, who knows what war means, and who has no love for it, always looking with apprehension upon its results, I ask, in all seriousness, '... would our democratic friends who are crying against the policy of the present administration have us do under the circumstances?' I think I am privileged to ask the question, because I have time and time again contended against the dangers which seemed to me to be possibilities, but which the democrats are trying to make the people believe are certainities.

"Many people and some newspapers, have made me to appear to talk against imperialism, in its true sense, against imperialism, so called, when imperialism, in its true sense, seemed to me too remote a possibility to be worth discussing. In my mind I made a distinction as I believe everybody should between imperialism, meaning by that the conquest of foreign countries, and militarism, meaning a desire for a large standing army and a love for military glory, and not necessarily resulting in conquest.

"I did not argue against imperialism in the real meaning of that word, because I gave the leaders of the republican party credit for too much wisdom to ever attempt to start the country upon that alluring but ruinous track. In militarism, distinct from imperialism as I conceived it, I thought I saw a danger, against which I argued, but I am now satisfied that public sentiment and the attitude of the republican party upon the question are such that the danger is not nearly so great as I feared.

Republican Statesmanship.

"Were the people less intelligent and not so well posted, there would be some danger under conditions like those which exist in our country, of the military spirit being too highly cultivated. The republicans of this country know it quite as well as Mr. Bryan, and they will do all in their power to prevent the growth of that spirit.

"It is republican statesmanship that has so far adjusted affairs that the 'balance of trade,' as it is called, is overwhelmingly in our favor, and so that the flow of gold is to our shores instead of away from them. I need not weary you with a review of the past, when, under democratic rule, the balance of trade was the other way, and Europe, instead of pouring gold into our country, was contnually draining gold out of it. Will juggling with our currency give us larger wages or a larger dinner pail? I think not, and I do not believe that there is a man within the sound of my voice who wants to change the prosperity of today for the vague and uncertain things which the democrats promise.

"Let every republican in Marathon county turn out on Tuesday and see to it that the majority for the republican ticket is the largest ever known in the county."

SPARTA AND PORTAGE GREET LA FOLLETTE

Heavy Storm and Rainfall Does Not Prevent Large Crowds From Gathering to Hear Him.

Sparta, Nov. 1.—In many respects the most remarkable day during the campaign being made by Robert M. La Follette closed in this city last evening with an address to an audience numbering fully 800.

Portage was reached in a storm of sufficient intensity to have kept people undershelter under ordinary circumstances, but it failed to have a depressing effect on the large crowd that assembled at the station and followed thecarriage of the speaker and his party to the opera house.

At New Lisbon the rain fell in torrents, and the special stalled by a disabled engine on the train ahead, seemed to be standing ina vast lake with border lines lost in the distance. The crowd stood it through, and when the train finaly reachedthe station hundreds of people were there to receive it.

Spooner at La Crosse.

La Crosse Wis., Nov. 1.—Hard rains all day made it impossible for the country people to reach the town for the Spooner meeting last evening. Nevertheless tne theater was filled beyond its seating capacity, wtih 100 or more people on the stage.

VALET C. F. JONES ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

New York, Nov. 1.—Charles F. Jones, valet of the late millionaire Rice was found in his cell this morning with his throat cut from ear to ear with a pen knife. The wound is not fatal. It is alleged that Jones last night confessed his part of the forgery of the checks of the dead man presented to the banks for payment before the information of the millionaire's death was made public.

NEW CRUSOE FOUND DEAD.

Chas. Anderson's Terrible Experience on an Arctic Island.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 1.—On Unimak island, which guards one of the entrances to Bering Sea, a rude mound of earth and rocks mark the last resting place of Charles William Anderson, sailor, fisherman and hunter. No name is on the lonely grave, and only two men know its location. The men were strangers to the dead. Fate guided them to the hunter's cabin. They had been cast upon the island by adverse winds and picked up by the schooner Edward Hayes when well nigh starved. In the little cabin they had gazed upon the work of starvation, for on the bunk lay the skeleton of Anderson. In the bunk by the side of the whitening bones the men found a journal. The sufferer railed against false friends who had promised to go to his aid on the lonely island when a certain time had elapsed. At times he complained of the injustice of fate; at others he implored God's mercy. Thoughts of suicide had come to him in his helpless suffering, but he drove them away as unworthy of a brave man and a Christian, and waited calmly for the end.

SERIOUS REVOLT IS ON IN SPAIN

Present Rising In the Mountain Provinces Alarms the Government.

TROOPS ARE SENT OUT

Country Is Ablaze With Uniformed Revolutionists Armed With Modern Guns.

DRASTIC ORDERS TO CHECK IT

London, Nov. 1.—The Carlist risings in Spain seem to be spreading so rapidly that the Daily Mail's Madrid correspondent predicts that unless drastic and prompt action is taken by the government the present revolt may lead to the most formidable outbreak since the last war. "At first," says he, "it was thought that the skirmish at Badalona, near Barcelona, was an isolated affair, but it is now seen to have been a part of a widespread movement, which, though the Carlist leaders at present affect to ignore, may in the event of successful spread obtain their countenance and support.

Mountain District Aflame.

"All the mountain district north of Barcelona is ablaze and the risings are admitted to bear the genuine Carlist stamp. The revolutionists are in uniform and possess rifles, mostly of modern type, evidently arranged for abroad and secretly smuggled into Spain. All pursuing columns have been greatly reinforced and all soldiers on furlough and even those infirm have been recalled to the colors and ordered to be incorporated in the regiments ready to leave for Barcelona in case of need. The revolutionaries principally belong to Berga, Iqualada, and Manresa, and the bands must number at least 1,000, and any success will vastly increase their strength. The government is sending warships to Barcelona, and all the various garrisons in the districts thought to be disaffected are under arms. A widespread proclamation, of martial law is likely. The guards have also been strengthened along the French border to stop any further importation of arms."

In Pursuit of Carlist Army.

Madrid, Nov. 1.—It is officially admitted that the Carlist band in the vicinity of Berga numbers 800 men. Troops are closely pursuing them. Communication between Berga and Barcelona has been severed. Another numerous band has appeared at Figols. It has sixteen horses and is divided into three groups. The gendarmes who searched the country house of Senor Torres Baros, brother-in-law of the duke of Solferino (who has disappeared), where they seized several rifles, also obtained possession of documents giving the names of 126 Carlist chiefs and 600 Carlist soldiers. Papers and stamps bearing the inscription, "the royal army of Catalonia," have been seized. It is said that the revolution was timed for the first fortnight in November. The conspirators in three groups were to attack simultaneously the municipal council, the civil government and the captain general. The minister of war says that the number of Carlists in Caledonia will not reach the figure announced by the minister of the interior, who asserted there were 800 Carlists in the vicinity of Berga. The Barcelona police, somewhat belatedly, have discovered two depots of arms, rifles and various kinds of sabers, together with ammunition enough to fill six carts. The resignation of the prefect of Barcelona will probably be accepted.

Pretensions of Don Carlos.

While the present revolt in Spain may not be correctly described as a Carlist rising, it seems certain that the insurgent forces are in full sympathy with the pretensions of Don Carlos and that he will take advantage of the movement as soon as it gives promise of becoming formidable. Don Carlos claims the Spanish throne under the special law of succession established by Philip V. The Carlist claim to the Spanish throne has been kept alive since 1833, when the long series of civil wars began.

TYPHOON CAUSES VAST DESTRUCTION

DIG BODIES FROM RUINS.

Workmen Recover Corpses of Victims of New York Explosion.

New York, Oct. 31.—Hundreds of workmen have cleared away hundreds of tons of debris from the mountain of wreckage left by the awful explosion in the Tarrant building, at Greenwich and Warren streets, on Monday. They were delving for the bodies of the victims. All day and all night the search went on.

Two corpses, it is thought, were discovered. One, or something that looked like a corpse, may be that of August Schmidt, an engraver, who worked on the third floor of the Atlantic Cafe building, directly opposite Tarrant's.

The other body, that of a woman, was the only one that was actually recovered. It was not entire. Workmen found it in the Tarrant building. There was nothing to identify this victim of the disaster.

The authorities have been unable either to fix the responsibility for the explosion or to ascertain the number of the dead. The mystery of the fatalities can be cleared up only with pick and shovel.

The latest explanation of the explosion is that it was caused by chlorate of potash, a large quantity of which was stored by Tarrant & Co., for McKesson & Robins, and Rogers & Pyatt, both wholesale drug firms.

The explosion demonstrated that the law regulating the storing of explosives is defective in itself, or, if efficient, is not properly applied. District Attorney Gardner has instructed Assistant District Attorney James J. Walsh to investigate the explosion and if necessary lay the facts before the grand jury so that if there is a violation of the penal code involved in the awful destruction of life and property those guilty may be punished as they deserve.

The number of persons missing and who may have lost their lives in the disaster is reported now as thirty-six. The first estimates of the mortality which the police made were, no doubt, excessive.

ALL CONDEMN LANSDOWNE.

English Public and Press Oppose Him for Foreign Minister.

London, Nov. 1.—The marquis of Lansdowne's elevation to the foreign secretaryship, according to the announcements in the newspapers this morning has, figuratively speaking, taken the country's breath away. It was as unexpected as it is unwelcome. Even the stancheet ministerial mouthpiece among the afternoon newspapers openly condemn it.

The Globe declares the appointment only shows Lord Salisbury is completely out of touch with the feelings and wishes of the electorate and the conservative party, while the liberal Westminster Gazette, crowing over the discomfiture of the ministerial newspapers, which have been so loudly demanding the retirement of Lord Lansdowne, expresses relief at the fact that Joseph Chamberlain was not given the post, saying:

"The latter's appointment would have filled thoughtful people with dismay, and it is something to have escaped this serious danger." Lord Salisbury, apparently, arranged matters with the queen at Balmoral a week ago. His lordship's own inclination was to resign the premiership and devote himself exclusively to the foreign office. He wrote her majesty to this effect, but she declined to accept the suggestions. Lord Salisbury, therefore, went to Balmoral, to discuss the question, with the result that the queen carried her point.

Public anxiety is to some extent relieved by the conviction that Lord Salisbury's experience will still be available to direct the broad lines of policy of the prospective foreign minister.

EARTHQUAKE VISITS FLORIDA.

Eight Distinct Shocks Are Felt at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 1.—Eight distinct earthquake shocks were felt in Jacksonville. The first shock was at 11:15 a. m. and shook some of the large buildings in the city. Hundreds of people believed that heavy ordnance was being fired in or near the city. At 11:25 o'clock another shock, equally as severe, was felt and they continued at fifteen minute intervals until 12:30 o'clock. At 4:04 o'clock in the afternoon the seventh shock of the day was felt, severer than any of the preceding ones, followed four minutes later by a report and a shock, the severest of the day. The last disturbance made the window panes rattle in several sections of the city. The local weather bureau officials realized the nature of the first shock and kept the time. Director Mitchell stated it as his opinion that the vibrations passed from south to north. There was no disturbance in the water noticeable and the shocks were not severe enough to cause any damage.

Church Policy Changes Front On Advices From a Missionary.

NAMES GUILTY LEADERS

Horrible Story of Atrocity, Torture, Massacre and Outrage Reported.

MARTYRDOM OF AMERICANS

Chicago, Nov. 1.—The Northwestern Christian Advocate yesterday published a statement by Rev. H. O. Cady of the West China mission, "a well informed and a well known missionary." The statement leads the Advocate to revise its editorial opinion condemnatory to the action of Great Britian and Germany in demanding the punishment of the guilty high Chinese officials. In an editorial, "Just Punishment for China," the Advocate now declares:

Must Be Punished.

"The awful narrative compels us to revise our opinion and acquiesce in the demand, severe as it is. High officials in China instigated this massacre and devised or consented to the unspeakable tortures that have been visited upon our helpless American men, women and children. These guilty wretches must be convicted and punished so severely that all the world shall know of the righteous wrath of appalled civilization. The omission of that penalty would be a wrong against Christian civilization for the next century."

Rev. H. O. Cady quotes from the empress dowager's imperial edict of June 20, ordering that "all missionaries and native converts, foreign merchants and officials to be painfully extirpated."

Names the Guilty Leaders.

He adds: "Will the American people permit such monsters as the empress dowager, Prince Tuan, Kang Yi, Yung Lu, Yu Hsien,the governor of Honan, the taotai of Kuchow and Li Ping Heng, who instigated atrocities that cannot be even mentioned in public, to go unpunished? Are the fiends who raped our women to get off scot free?"

He enumerates cases of massacre, torture, outrage. He reiterates the fact that these tortured men, outraged women, murdered children are American citizens. He cannot tell all or half he can only hint at unspeakable atrocities. He wishes he had the president's ear for one-half hour to speak what cannot be written.

Recites an Episode.

He recites some episodes: The missionaries at Pao Ting Fu were turned out of the governor's yamen in order that the murder might not litter up the official residence. Dr. and Mrs. Hodge, Dr. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Simcox of the Presbyterian mission were massacred by the mob. A little girl was sliced to pieces before her pleading mother's eyes. Eleven American citizens met death in Pao Ting Fu. "The bodies of all were horribly mutilated, and it the case of the ladies their bodies were opened from the lower to the upper part of the trunk."

Twenty-Eight Americans.

Rev. H. O. Cady sums up:

"Of the killed twenty-eight were Americans, viz., nine men, thirteen women (five married and eight single), and six children."

He says fifty four Americans, twenty-one men, sixteen women and seventeen children, are known to be in the Chinese interior and in peril of outrage and death. In Shansi and Chihli still there are fifty-eight American citizens without protection and about whom next to nothing is known.

Mr. Cady continues: "The attitude of Emperor William is deserving of all praise. He is the only ruler who has met this crisis in a dignified and firm manner."

VARSITY ROOTERS GO TO MINNESOTA

DELUGE OF FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASM AT MADISON.

Over 200 Leather Lunged Students Will Accompany Team to Madison to Encourage Them On to Victory—Stagg's Men Are the Ones They Are After, However.

Madison, Nov. 1—[Special]—A deluge of football enthusiasm was precipitated on Madison at the mass meeting last night. Fully 1,500 students crowded into old Library Hall and made the historic place ring with the "U'-Rah!!-Rah!!!" of Wisconsin that has been the inspiration of 'Varsity teams on many a hard fought field. Coaches, players, faculty members and local admirers of the team were called upon for speeches. The University Regent band played Wisconsin football music from "Hot Time" to "We'll Rub It Into Stagg," and then played it over and over again, while the crowd sang the chorus through. The result of it all is that the 'Varsity team will be cheered at Minneapolis Saturday by an organized band of several hundred Wisconsin rooters armed with megaphones and cardinal ribbon in abundance. Each rooter is instructed to bring a pair of leather lunge.

In spite of the rain yesterday afternoon the sidelines were thronged with students witnessing the last practice before the big game. The team was given an unusually stiff practice against the scrub eleven, and the work was of a high order. The playing of Riordan, Chamberlain and Curtiss was especially brilliant, and these players will be very much in evidence in Saturday's contest.

The team left today at noon, and was given a rousing send-off at the depot. Light practice will be taken on the Minnesota field tomorrow. The special rooters' excursion will leave Madison tomorrow night. Saturday's game is looked upon as very uncertain. No one of the team or the coaching force is willing to prophecy a victory for Wisconsin. Telegraphic reports of the details of the play will be received at Library Hall Saturday afternoon.

Enthusiasm in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 1—Special—The alumni of Wisconsin University in this city are displaying about as much enthusiasm over the 'varsity eleven this season as the students at Madison. There will be a number of local graduates take advantage of the low railway rates next Saturday and visit Minneapolis to take in the game. They will also take along all their extra coin, as they feel confident that the Badgers will win and they figure on making their expenses at the expense of the Minnesota boys. Should the game go the other way there will be some of the Milwaukee boys go hungry until they can reach home.

The great interest however is being taken in the coming game between Wisconsin and Chicago University. Ask any student at Madison which he would prefer—a check for $100, or see Chicago beaten by Wisconsin—and the answer would be—by all means beat Stagg's team. That is the feeling at Wisconsin's capitol, and it is just such a feeling that will go a great way toward carrying the Badgers to victory. When Wisconsin plays in Chicago it is expected that over 300 rooters will go from Milwaukee in addition to 600 from Madison. The betting is even money now that Wisconsin will defeat Minnesota, and if they do, the Wisconsin rooters will be willing to wager odds that they win from Stagg's eleven.

RECEPTION AND LUNCHEON

Mesdames E. D. McGowan and F. B. Echlin Entertain Their Friends

A reception was given yesterday afternoon by Mesdames E. D. McGowan and F. B. Echlin, at the home of Mrs. McGowan, 154 Milton avenue. The guests were received at the door by little Miss Louise McGowan and Master Ellis Echlin.

The hostesses received in the front parlors, which were decorated with graceful ferns, palms and pink roses. The two rooms which were used for refreshments were also very tastily decorated with smilax, ferns and carnations. Garlands of smilax hung from the chandelier to the table, which also had a broad border of the vine. In the center of the table was a design of smilax with a cluster of fragrant carnations peeping out. One of the refreshment rooms was decorated with red carnations and the other with white.

Mrs. R. W. Edden and Miss Minnie Bennett assisted the hostesses in entertaining, and the luncheon was daintily served by Mrs. C. D. Capelle and Misses Maude Nowlan, Jessie Echlin, Carolyn Van Akin, Edith Echlin and Jessie Spoon.

During the afternoon and luncheon, the Orpheus Mandolin club furnished music. They were seated in the library, and their playing, always good, was enjoyed very much by the guests.

ANOTHER PRICE CLINCHER.

Mr. Bryan takes especial pleasure in telling the farmers that they are compelled to pay much more for all the articles they buy, and that therefore the enhanced value of their products does not benefit them. Let us see about that. The following transaction will fully explain how inconsistent Mr. Bryan is, and just what the actual facts disclose.

General Geo. A. Silsby was speaking in Spink county, South Dakota, and, having seen the statements made by Mr. Bryan and others, took occasion to ascertain if the statements were true.

He called on M. H. Campbell of Redfield, the largest dealer in live stock, and from his books ascertained the prices paid for fat hogs and grass-fed steers, on Oct. 3, 1895, and also on Oct. 3, 1900, and then prepared a hypothetical statement showing just what a stock-raiser would get for stock in the years named. And this is the result:

M. H. Campbell bought of Farmer John Brown
Oct. 3, 1895, 10 fat hogs, weight, 3,000, at $2.75	$ 82.50
Oct. 3, 1895, 2 grass-fed steers, weight 2,400, at $2.00	48.00	$130.50
Oct. 3, 1900, 10 fat hogs, weight 3,900, at $4.50	$ 135.00
Oct. 3, 1900, 2 grass-fed steers, weight 2,400, at $3.75	90.00	$225.00
Difference in favor of 1900		$ 94.50

The stock-raiser went to the general store of A. W. Greenman in 1895, and again in 1900, and bought the following supplies for his family, and this statement shows what the result was to him in dollars and cents:

Articles bought from A. W. Greenman.	1895	1900
100 lbs. sugar	$ 6.25	$ 7.00
10 lbs. oatmeal	.35	.40
10 lbs. prunes	.80	1.00
10 lbs. dried peaches	.90	1.00
2 lbs. best Japan tea	1.00	1.00

Total paid for same bill in years named	$30.45	$33.60

The same goods in 1900 cost him $3.15 more than in 1895, BUT: After paying the extra $3.15, he still had $91.35 more than he had in 1895.

Mr. Brown also sold 200 bushels of wheat October 3, 1895, and again the same amount in 1900. How did that affect him? He got only 37 cents a bushel in 1895, and his 200 bushels brought $74. In 1900 he obtained 65 cents per bushel, which brought him $130, or $56 more than the same quantity did in 1895. After deducting the $3.15 that he paid extra for the bill of goods he bought of Mr. Greenman, he still had $52.85 more money than he had in 1895, or within $22 as much left as the 200 bushels of wheat brought him in 1895.

Add together the difference he obtained on the live stock and wheat he sold in 1900, over 1895. It amounts to $150.50. Now deduct the $3.15 extra paid in 1900. How did that effect him? He only got 37 cents cold cash in his pockets than he did in 1895. It will also be observed that most of the articles for which he paid an increased price this year are products of the farm and orchard.

The books of Geo. F. Johnson of Redfield disclosed the fact that nails and barbed wire were selling at retail for $3.50 in October, 1895, and for the same identical price in that month in 1900, and yet Mr. Bryan declares "the farmers are getting caught on the barbs." Do Mr. Bryan's statements hold water any better than they did in 1896? Does not every condition of the farmer prove conclusively that his predictions of 1896 have all proven false, and does he produce anything besides wind to establish the fact that he is right now? Prosperity has hit the farmer, and the real issue with him is this: "Shall I stick to a sure thing, or shall I take the chance of again experiencing the evils of '93, '94, '95 and '96?" That is the paramount issue with the farmer.

NOVEMBER WILL BRING CHILLY DAYS

OCTOBER WEATHER WAS REMARKABLE FOR SALUBRITY.

It Has Broken the Record For Mild Weather—Trees, Flowers and Shrubs Have Undertaken a Second Period of Blossom—Mild Winter is Being Predicted.

The last October of the century broke all records for high temperatures. Official readings for the final week of the month show an average daily maximum degrees of 70 in 1900, 55 in 1899, 46 in 1898, 65 in 1897, 62 in 1896 and 47 in 1895. The daily minimum average last week was 60 degrees as against 50 in 1899, 38 in 1898, 49 in 1897, 47 in 1896 and 34 in 1895. The highest temperature recorded yesterday was 75 degrees, 17 above normal, 22 above the last day of October, 1899, 30 above that of 1898.

With the advent of November will come colder weather, according to the weather man. He expects a drop of twenty degrees before the day is finished.

Flora and Fauna in a Trance.

October played pranks on Janesville gardeners before she said good-by. Staid maples which shed their crimson and gold vestures weeks ago were tricked into putting out purple buds again by the sunshine and soft rains of the long Indian summer. Lilacs were inviegled into a second growth of silvery buds and hyacinths, jonquils and daffodils were made to forget the hiatus of winter and start pale green spikes up through the sod six months before their time.

The animals, which have always set up their autumn housekeeping by Oct. 15, are picknicking yet. Only the polar bears seemed bored at summer's persistency.

Crabapple Catches the Infection.

The crabapple trees have caught the April infection and are breaking out in an easter vestment of fairy green. The sugar maples, the paper birches, the box alders, white oaks and silver poplars are flaunting a fresh array of silvery leaflets before dropping their season-worn foliage. The willows, snow-balls, syringas and a dozen other shrubs share the popular delusion that green is a seasonable color.

Prophesies an Open Winter.

In all this all old settlers see the promise of an open winter and danger for shrub and tree should a sudden change occur. One of them said this morning:

"The sap is up in the trees and a hard frost would seriously injure them. People who have planted bulbs for spring flowering had better take them up again or they will sprout and die. We will not put ours out for a week yet, though heretofore we have had them in the ground by the last week in October. The squirrels, gophers and prairie dogs are good weather forecasters, I think, and they all prophesy a mild winter ahead."

ROUTINE OF THE COMMON COUNCIL

An adjourned regular meeting of the common council was held last night. Aldermen Gilkey, Judd and Sennett were absent. Mayor Richardson presided.

The special assessment was read and approved by the highway committee.

A petition was presented from the owners of property on the highway running from Eastern avenue in Miltimore's addition northwesterly to Center avenue; that the portion of the highway lying southwesterly of a point where the Janesville & Southeastern railway intersects it and Center avenue, be vacated. Referred to the highway committee, to report at the regular meeting Nov. 12.

A petition, signed by ten property owners, to vacate the southerly one-fourth of George Place, in Spring Brook, was referred to the highway committee. Will be acted on November 12.

Ald. Gilkey, from the finance committee, reported favorably on a batch of bills.

Ald. Kothman, from the fire and water committee, reported to grant the request of Spencer H. Phelps, 106 North Main street, to erect a frame building.

By Ald. Rice—An order adopting the special assessment for improving South Second street from South Main to Wisconsin streets.

By Ald. Gilkey—An order to pay P. W. Ryan $200 from special assessment fund, as part payment for improving South Jackson street, and $37.36 for the work on South Second street, from the Third ward fund.

Ald. Gilkey introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the street commissioner to keep in repair and clean all macadamized streets, without further order from the council and to charge the same to the ward funds.

THER AND DAUGHTER.

etween These Relations Is Close and Tender.

bond between father and daughter a very close and tender one. the outset a father is inclined to ry indulgent and caressing to his woman child. Toward a he may behave with a in sternness, may be some- is unduly exacting and se- but he is probably as wax in the pled hands of the little princess of house. On her part the little shows a wonderful regard for her er. When she is a baby she likes be carried in his strong arms, and lean her head against his broad ast. Nobody is like daddy to the tle prattling child, who runs to meet r father when she hears his latch- y in the door at night, and who tches for him from the window for hour before it is time for his ap- earance. As the child grows older he often resembles her father in men- al characteristics, likes the studies he cares for, and is a replica of him- self. If he is fond of mathematics the little girl will be probably just like him, and have no trouble whatever with arithmetic, algebra, geometry and the calculus. If he is proficient in language she will acquire them without much difficulty. Sons are apt to repeat the intellectual traits of mothers and daughters resemble fa- thers.

It not infrequently occurs that a daughter inherits the business capacity of her father to a degree which the son does not, and when this is the case it seems unfair that the boy should have the business opening from which the girl is debarred. Several years ago a father at the head of a large business yielded to the wish of his daughter and allowed her to enter it and serve in various capacities. She became his confidential clerk and adviser. During a long enforced absence of his from his post she took his place, and after death she succeeded to the business and carried it on successfully herself. This girl would not have been satisfied with a small domestic life. Nature had indicated for her a business career, and her father was sufficiently wise to set her feet on the ladder leading to it. A subtle understanding prevails between father and daughter. They may become more than mere kindred. A daughter may be her father's intimate friend, and often, when things go wrong, and he is tried and troubled and perplexed, she cheats him of the depression, consoles him with her intelligent sympathy, and makes the world seem possible again. As she grows up her father observes with pride how much she looks as her mother did in the days when he courted her. She becomes herself to the sentiment which first perfumed her father's life in youth. He introduces her to his friends with a certain air of pride, and it is well known that a father makes a most popular and agreeable chaperon for his girls. When father and daughter go off together for a journey abroad, their letters home are apt to show decided pleasure on both sides. A girl who has had a loving and considerate father, courteous, and in a measure gallant in his treatment of her, will not too easily choose a husband inferior to her father. The young man must be able to stand a comparison with that dear and honored comrade.—Margaret E. Sangster.

The East Progresses Rapidly.

The United States census shows that in some respects at least the east is progressing more than the west. For instance, the announcement is made that while San Francisco has gained only 14.64 per cent in ten years, Boston has gained 25.07 per cent. Boston has greatly increased her lead over her rival Baltimore, the latter having gained only 17.15 per cent, so that instead of only 14,000, Boston now has a majority over Baltimore of nearly 52,000.

HEART-SICK.

There are a great many people who have heart sickness, who have no chronic derangement of the heart. When the stomach is diseased it may affect many other organs, and produce all the evidences of diseased heart, diseased liver or kidneys, or disease in some other organ.

The inexperienced practitioner treats the wrong disease, and hence the constant statement of Dr. Pierce's correspondents: "Doctors could not help me."

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the assimilative powers, and purifies and enriches the blood. When diseases of organs remote from the stomach are caused by the stomach, the cure of the stomach results in the cure of the other diseases, in heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc.

"Six years ago my stomach and heart troubled me so much I had to do something, as the doctors could not help me," writes Mrs. S. A. Knapp, of San Jose, California, Box 392. "I went to San Francisco and had treatment for catarrh of the stomach, and was better for some time, then it came back. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' These medicines cured my stomach. I do not have the pain and indigestion as I did. It is very hard for me to tell you what I suffered before I commenced taking your valuable medicine. I recommend it to all the sufferers whom I meet."

ANOTHER EVIDENCE.

Good Times Among Railroad Men Shown by Official Figures.

One of the chief north and south trunk railroad lines of the country is the Illinois Central, which has recently made a remarkable statement to the Telegraph Employes Political league as to the enormous increase in the amount of money paid employes in 1900 as compared with 1896. The statement was:

	1896.	1900.	Increase.
Miles of road operated	3,067	3,845	778
No. of men employed	19,647	28,205	8,738
Wages paid	$9,467,021	$15,259,561	$5,792,540
No. tons carried	3,659,213	16,020,836	6,361,623

Other roads in the south and southwest make a similar showing.

The southwestern roads had gross earnings of $6,584,265 in August, 1895, and the same roads showed gross earnings of $9,858,405. Yet the average rate of freight was less per ton mile (the cost of carrying one ton of freight one mile) and passenger rates were less. The increased business of these roads clearly demonstrates the difference between general activity of business under the republican doctrine of protection, and democratic depression.

INTEREST RATES LOWER.

Proof That There Is an Abundance of Money Seeking Investment.

To show our improved credit N. W. Harris & Co., of Chicago and New York, have figured out the net returns per annum that will be received from an investment in government and other bonds in 1896 and 1900.

The returns are:

	1895 Per ct.	1900 Per ct.
U. S. Government (4s, 1907)	3.25	1.95
Boston, Mass., 4s	3.50	2.
Kansas City, 4½s	3.70	3.18
Cleveland, 5s	3.80	3.10
Milwaukee, 5s	3.75	3.00
Omaha, 5s	4.25	3.50
Colorado Springs, 6s	4.38	3.63
Chicago, 4s	3.87	3.10

This reduction in the rate of interest proves that there is an abundance of money seeking investment. The abundance and the general prosperity followed hard upon President McKinley's election in 1896.

MR. BRYAN TOLD YOU.

Prophetic Predictions of the Megaphonic Popocrat in 1896.

Mr. Bryan told you in 1896, didn't he, that if Mr. McKinley was elected there would be less and less money in circulation every year? We defeated Mr. Bryan. He was absolutely wrong about the circulation. Here are the official figures of the treasury department:

	1896.	1897.	1898.	1899.
Circulation per capita of money in United States.	$21 10	$22 49	$24 71	$25 00
Amount of money per capita in United States	32 88	34 25	35 39	36 12

Not only is there more money in the United States in proportion to the population than there was four years ago, but there is more money actually passing from hand to hand among the people than ever before.

Is a man so ignorant of finance fit to guard your savings?

REFUSES TO BE COMFORTED.

A Calamity Howler Who Was Put to a Desperate Resort for Complaint.

The following excerpt from the Kansas correspondence of the Northwestern Miller is a humorous illustration of a disconsolate calamity howler.

"With granaries full to bursting and general prosperity abroad in the land there are still a few calamity howlers left. One from Kansas whose attention was called to the big wheat crop raised this year, responded with a doleful whine: 'Yes, it is a big crop, but these here big crops is mighty hard on the land.'"

Dividends and Prosperity.

The Daily Stockholder of New York has published a statement which shows that dividends to the amount of $57,000,000 were paid by different railway and manufacturing concerns. On October 1, 1896, the same combines paid $35,000,000. The difference in the earnings means that more men were employed, more wages paid and that the farmers had more supplies to furnish to the army of wage-earners. It is a case of prosperity all around.

Plenty of Money Coined.

The coinage of the mints in the year ended June 30, 1900, was:

Gold coin	$107,937,110
Silver dollars	13,244,084
Fractional silver	12,876,847
Minor coins	7,243,017
Total	$141,361,017

This does not look like a shortage of money. And mark too the fact that $31,000,000 of the coinage was in silver.

Railroad Men and the Farmers.

The railroad concerns in the far west are having a good share of the prosperity. Four years ago the average machinist's monthly check was from $48 to $57. The average is now $85 to $125. The other employes have received advances in proportion. They can all buy more supplies from the farmers and other producing classes than ever before.

The Treaty of Peace.

"Openly made was the treaty of peace, openly ratified by the senate of the United States, openly and publicly confirmed by the house of representatives, and those islands stand to-day the territory of the United States, and as long as they are our territory the sovereignty of the United States must be supreme." —William McKinley.

A LITTLE BIG WASTE.

DISTINGUISH between economy and wisdom. Sitting at home to save shoe-leather is economy, but it is scarcely wisdom. In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy, but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving. Every cheap soap contains free alkali. Now, free alkali will eat its way through the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor Imagine then what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?

STRIKING AT PROSPERITY.

What Our Government Lost When Democratic Free Trade Was in Force.

A business firm that would not learn the unwisdom of continuing business year after year at a loss, paying out more money each year than they had taken in, is certainly not capable of transacting business with other people's money. Their continuance in business would be limited by the amount of the reserve capital or a thorough change in the methods of business. To not change the business methods under these conditions is worse than foolhardy; it is criminal, and must needs end in the sheriff closing the doors and selling them out, or the capitalists that have been making good the losses placing other managers in charge before bankruptcy put an end to their career.

The same business methods should apply in government affairs that is applicable to private business. A political party that is so short-sighted as to wish to continue in that line has no business in control of government finances.

The income of the United States in three out of four democratic years was less than the expenditures of the government, and that in time of peace.

In 1893 we took in more than we paid out—$2,341,674—but our public debt increased $7,770.

In 1894 our expenditures exceeded our income $69,803,260, and our public debt increased $50,004,790; in other words we ran behind that year $119,808,050.

In 1895 we paid out more than we took in, $42,805,223, and our public debt increased $81,160,170, and ran behind that year $123,965,393.

In 1896, the year Mr. McKinley was elected, we paid out in excess of our income (the democratic Wilson law, still the law at the custom houses), $25,203,246, and our national debt was increased $131,161,830, and we ran behind $156,365,076.

While we were paying out more than we were earning, mechanics' wages were getting lower and lower, and more mechanics were losing their jobs each year, while the mechanics and mill hands in European workshops were working night and day, supplying the American market, which our wage-earners had been doing before the democratic free trade Wilson law was enacted.

If we apply the business test we can see more clearly the bad effect of free trade.

Suppose it was a private firm or trust that was spending each year more than they were earning, and each year piling up its indebtedness, and when that fact came to the attention of the parties who sold them raw material or manufactured goods on credit, a consultation would very soon lead to the depreciation of the credit of the indebted firm, and its paper would be blacklisted and its credit gone.

And yet, here we find the democratic platform calling for an enlargement of the free list. It is a blow at protection, and on a par with the other pretensions of the democratic party.

Experience does not teach them anything, and they cannot be trusted with power.

MR. BRYAN'S WARNING

"If there is anyone who believes that he gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."—Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 16, 1896.

FARM PRODUCTS.

The following statement of facts furnished by the republican national committee tells the whole story and will interest farmers.

Mr. Bryan has been telling the farmers that they derive no benefit from a protective tariff, and that the prices at which they sell their products are no higher now than they were in 1896. Let some farmers send the following letter to Mr. Bryan. It shows the actual prices paid to farmers in 1896 and in 1900.

Grand View, Ind., Oct. 17, 1900.
Mr. John G. Rimsteadt, Rockport, Ind.

Dear Sir:—Replying to yours of the 15th inst. in which you ask us to refer to our books and give you a list of the prices paid by us during the month of October, 1896, and a list of the prices that we are now paying for farm products, would say that we give you below a list of

Prices Paid in October, 1896.

Prices Paid in October, 1900.

Wheat, per bu	$0.70
New corn, per bu	.30
Old corn, per bu	.40
Oats per bu	.25
Rye, per bu	.50

The above is made up from our books of 1896 and October 16th, 1900, which you have our permission to publish if you wish to do so.

Very truly,
CADICK & CRAIG.

The average advance in the prices if farm products has been more than 50 percent since 1896. What has Mr. Bryan to say now?

There is another side to this question that is worth considering and that is, that while farm products show a handsome advance that the necesaries of life that a farmer is obliged to buy have advanced less than ten per cent. If the statement is doubted compare the present prices of groceries, dry goods, and clothing with prices that prevailed four years ago and you will be convinced.

The intelligent farmer is not complaining, but is simply waiting to cast his ballot for another four years of McKinley's prosperity.

While statictics show that the products of the farm have advanced materially in price thus increasing the cost of living to the non-producers of these products, yet the merchant, the mechanic and the laborer are not complaining of high prices of living because with the prosperityof the farmer has come prosperity to business and industry, and money for the comforts and luxuries of life were never more abundant than at the present time.

The man who is dissatisfied with the administration of government in this era of prosperity, is hard to please; a change would not beter conditions, and the change contemplated would result in ruin and disaster.

A GOOD WORD FOR MR. COOPER.

The Racine Journal says: "Congressman Cooper has done splendid service in this campaign and his eloquent and convincing speeches have been heard in other states besides Wisconsin. His constituents may well be proud of their member, as indeed they are."

Mr. Cooper has been in congress since 1892 and is a recognized leader in the house. He is chairman of the Insular committee, a position of responsibility and importance.

The first district is ably represented and Mr. Cooper will be returned by an old time majority.

His tour through the state has been very succesful; he is an orator and his arguments are clear and conclusive. He has a host of friends in Janesville and Rock county who will be pleased to hear him at the opera house this evening.

The $450,000,000.00 in gold now in the United States treasury, the largest balance in the history of the nation, will melt away like dew in the morning sun if Mr. Bryan is elected, and the nation will be forced to another bond issue in less than twelve months.

HALLOWE'EN OBSERVED BY CO. I

First Annual Masquerade Ball Was Held Last Night.

Company I. Wisconsin National Guard celebrated Hallowe'en last evening by having their first annual masquerade ball. There was a good attendance in spite of the rain, there being about one hundred and twenty-five present in costume. The grand march took place at 10:45 o'clock, but only twenty-four couples taking part many of the masques preparing to watch it rather than participate in it. Tuckwood's orchestra of six pieces furnished some very acceptable music and was enjoyed very much by the dancers. Everything passed off in a quiet manner and the party was a success.

Cotton in Central Asia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Official reports show that the area under cotton cultivation in Russian central Asia has increased 30 per cent this year. The crop is estimated at 7,500,000 pounds, or half the Russian requirement, whereas previously only 6,000,000 pounds has been procured from Russian possessions.

About five months ago I began treatment with Dr. Secriet. Since that time I have gained over 33 pounds in weight. My backache and rheumatism are gone. I am working hard building my house, and have not felt so well in 20 years. I am highly pleasek with Dr. Secriet's work.—A. L. Farr.

There could not be better evidence of Dr. Secriet's great skill than the above letter. Consult him free at the Park Hotel, Janesville, on Friday, Nov. 2.

IN HONOR OF LAUREAN SOCIETY.

Miss Euretta Kimball Entertained the Members Last Night.

Miss Euretta Kimball entertained the members of the Laurean society of the Janesville high school at her home, 151 South Main street. About twenty-five of the young ladies enjoyed her hospitality and the evening was given up to the games common to the night. Molten lead was dropped into cold water and we suppose revealed their future destinies; apple parings were thrown over their shoulders and spelled the names of future husbands; roasted chestnuts jumped around looking for a partner. The young ladies also tried the old trick of bobbing for apples and tried to catch the same fruit when tied up by a string. The party came to a close about midnight after the young ladies had looked into the looking-glass just as the clock struck twelve.

LOANING MONEY.

When there are millions of dollars piled up in New York and other financial centers waiting for investment, it follows that money is cheap, in the sense that it does not cost much to borrow it. The capitalists with capital for investment makes the rate of interest low, and consequently investors, capitalists, large banking and other financial institutions have great difficulty in lending their money out safely at a percentage larger than three or four per cent. The credit of the United States government is now so good that government bonds can easily be sold which yield an income of only two per cent; but the credit of foreign governments, or at least several of them, is not so good as that, and not having money of their own in their financial centers which can be borrowed at a low rate of interest, or borrowed at all, they naturally come to the country, or the financial centers of the country, where there is plenty of money. Such a thing as sentiment never actuates a person or a country borrowing, or a person or a financial institution lending. It is a matter of business. Money lenders get as much as they can, and money borrowers pay as little as they must. New York is to-day the financial center of the world, because it is better able to lend money to all comers than any other city of the world.

This condition of affairs proves that our own country was never so prosperous as now. It could not be true without these millions of hundreds of millions of dollars piled up in New York, seeking investment at these low rates of interest. It also illustrates that the big financial institutions, wherever located, cannot prosper unless the country as a whole has made the money and has put it in their hands for saving or investment. The savings banks scattered throughout the country, the life insurance companies, the financial institutions or large private banking concerns of whatever kind, depend for their very existence in the last analysis of things, first, upon the fact that people have money saved up, which they can place with these persons or institutions for investment, and, second, that they have such confidence in the general business outlook, and also such confidence in the integrity of the persons and institutions in question, that they place their money on deposit with them. It is this money, the money of all the people, that is loaned out to such would-be borrowers as can put up sufficient collateral.

The presence of this great mass of money in the financial centers seeking investment at rates no matter how low, so far from being a bad sign, as Mr. Bryan and his organs claim (though we have never been able to see why), is the best possible evidence, is, indeed, a perfect index, of the prosperity of the country. It is positive proof that the present prosperity of the country is unprecedented. When we say that a man is a creditor, when we know that he has money to lend, we mean to say that there is no better way of saying that he is prosperous. When a nation is called a creditor nation, it is only perfectly fair to assume that the same conditions exist with regard to the whole country; in fact, it is mere claptrap to assume anything else.

Tropical Winds Blow Hard.

The chief characteristics of tropical hurricanes is the high wind velocity. No storm of temperate latitudes ever developes such appalling fury. There are few places in the interior of the United States where the wind ever blows more than forty or fifty miles an hour; but in a West Indian cyclone velocities of eighty, ninety and 100 miles are not uncommon, and in 1897, at Cape Lookout, N. C., the anemometer registered 138.

BRYAN'S THREATS

Revolutionary Utterances of the Democratic Candidate for President.

What the Nebraskan Threatened to Do in His Campaign Speeches of 1896.

The Issue Now as It Was Then, Prosperity and National Honor.

Attack on the Gold Standard and Defiance of the Supreme Court.

Secretary Gage has shown clearly the power which Bryan might use as president to nullify the gold standard law, if so disposed. Mr. Bryan has pledged himself in public speeches to use every power, regular and irregular, direct and indirect, to force the country upon a silver basis, if he is elected president.

Bryan gives in his book the full text of his speech in the campaign of 1896 to the business men of Chicago. In the report of this speech, since cooly and deliberately embodied in his book, on page 587, he says:

"And then I propose that we shall say to our foreign creditors that we intend to pay our coin obligations in either gold or silver. I propose that we shall say to them: 'Gentlemen, if you conspire to make that silver dollar less than the gold dollar, we shall pay you in that silver dollar.

Bryan proposed a policy which was to be followed, not because of any supposed benefit to the country, but solely to secure revenge upon the foreign bondholder. He did not stop to consider the question of sawing off the limb on which the country is sitting and starting it down toward a silver basis by paying interest in silver.

In view of Mr. Bryan's threat to have it out with the bondholders it is significant to know that the threat of striking them over the shoulders of labor and industry was not confined to one speech or one occasion. Many times in the campaign he reiterated his determination to resort to extreme and even circuitous and irregular measures to attack the gold standard. Thus in his speech at Philadelphia (report on page 477 of his book) he boldly declared:

"I have said that if there was anybody who believed the maintenance of the gold standard absolutely essential, he ought not to vote for me at all. If I can prevent the maintenance of the gold standard, you can rely upon me doing it upon the very first opportunity that the people will give me."

It was no mere slip of the tongue which caused Mr. Bryan to speak of attacking the gold standard by irregular and extra-legal means. In an extraordinary speech made at Ottumwa, Ia., where he spoke of "the people taking the reins in their own hands," he said also (page 596 of his book):

"If I have behind me the hearts, as well as the votes, of the American people, you may depend upon it that no power in this country or any other nation will prevent the opening of our mints to the free coinage of silver on equal terms with gold and at the present ratio."

A moment later in that same speech he spoke of the people waiting until patience was exhausted, then arousing themselves and taking the reins of government into their own hands—a course transcending the law and appealing to the forces of revolution.

The full significance of these utterances is only to be understood when they are considered in the light of the still earlier and more formal one made at Madison Square (Bryan's book page 320) where he said:

"I shall always refuse to apologize for the exercise of the right to dissent from a decision of the supreme court."

These are revolutionary doctrines, one and all. There is no lawful or constitutional power in this country coming from "the hearts of the people" as distinguished from their ballots. It takes a three-fourth's vote to amend the constitution. Equally certain is it that holders of our bonds cannot be discriminated against and paid in a depreciated coinage. The supreme court would be bound to prevent any such action. Bryan, of course, knew that and hence the significance of his threat and warning to that tribunal.

Mr. Bryan knew as well in 1896 as he does now that some able lawyers have persistently claimed that, as a matter of legal right, the supreme court would be compelled to declare against a change in the obligations of contracts from a gold standard to a silver basis. Bryan, of course, denies that, but is not content to stop there. He plainly means to "dissent from the decisions of the supreme court," not only in that instance, but in many others where that tribunal might feel bound to uphold the gold standard and the obligations of the law, as against the invocation of irregular and unauthorized powers derived from "the hearts of the people" and not from ballots cast in accordance with the constitution and the laws.

It would no doubt be dangerous for Bryan to nullify the gold standard law by paying the interest on bonds in silver, but he would have to belie his own utterances if he stopped there. The revolutionary programme which he proposes goes much farther than that. What is to be the response of law-abiding and law-respecting voters?

A PUNCTURED ARGUMENT.

Farmers Can Buy More with Their Produce Than They Could Four Years Ago.

The calamity press has lately copied rather extensively a series of so-called advances in prices on articles that farmers buy. The democrats are using the list in an attempt to show that the farmers pay the cost of prosperity.

Of course there is nothing in this when the statements are analyzed. It is true that there has been advance in certain articles, cleverly picked out by the democrats to urge their point, but in no instance has the advance been as great as the advance in price of what the farmer has to sell. In other words, the farmer is able to buy more with what he produces than he was four years ago, and he has the certainty of a first-class home market for everything that he can possibly produce.

Let us analyze these statements of the democracy.

If the Wilson bill was such a good thing for the people, it seems to us they should compare the 1900 with the '96 prices, and in all cases average prices should be the rule. The democrats say:

"Stoves have increased 30 per cent." Corn has advanced 50 per cent. and wages 40 per cent.

"Wages have increased from four to five dollars." Mules have advanced $25 to $50. "Nails have doubled in price." Wool has trebled in price since '96.

"Fourteen-inch plows that sold for ten dollars now sell for $14." Before silver was struck down it took $23 to buy that plow.

"Ropes that sold for five cents per pound now sell for 15 cents." Sheep that sold in '96 for $2.60 now sell for four dollars.

"Binder twine which cost seven cents in '96 now sells for 11 cents." Poultry that sold for four cents in '96 now sells for eight cents.

"Barb wire has doubled in price." So has the Missouri mule; so has the raw material from which wire is made.

"Hoes, rakes, shovels and all such articles have gone up 40 per cent." Old iron from which these articles are made has advanced 150 per cent.

"Cultivators have increased three to four dollars." So have horses advanced $15 to $25.

"Common stove pipe which sold for ten cents now costs 20 cents." Hops which sold for seven cents now brings a ready sale at 16 cents.

"Bolts and rods have gone up 75 per cent." Flax has gone up 100 per cent.

Since 1897 there has been a general upward movement of commodities in this country, and this was the cry on the part of the silverites in 1896: "Give us free silver and prices will advance all along the line."

Statistics furnished by Bradstreet upon the basis of 100 staple articles in common use in this country shows that the average prices of these are now at the highest level known for years, and there has been a steady advance with an increase of 33 per cent. over the prices of July, 1896.

It is a notable feature of this advance that, whereas American farm and manufactured products have advanced, so has the price of labor, the prices of many staple articles in general use have declined.

HOW SOUTHERN EDITORS FEEL

Sentiment of Leading Journals Regarding Bryanism and Expansion.

Little by little the sentiment of the leading southern papers toward Bryanism and favoring expansion come to light. The Memphis Commercial-Appeal recently likened Mr. Bryan to a "blabberer," and now the editors of the Nashville Banner and the Atlanta Constitution have this to say about the facts:

"The thinking people of the south know that 16 to 1 was a concession to populism, and they know that Mr. Bryan's "imperialism" is a phrase to juggle with—a campaign cry. Intelligent people in the south want expansion, and they believe in protection. Mr. McKinley has made no mistakes, except in a few instances in the appointment of postmasters."—Leland Rankin, Editor Nashville American (Dem.).

"The south will go for Bryan. We are not imperialists, but we favor expansion. The south realizes that the retention of the Philippines will make for her profit more than for any other section of the country. I will say that President McKinley has many warm friends and admirers in the south."—W. A. Hemphill, Editor Atlanta Constitution (Dem.).

THE MILITARISM BOGY.

Size of Our "Large Standing Army" of Which the Democrats Rant.

Our "large standing army" of which the democracy is in such a state of fear consists of 65,000 men. Switzerland keeps nearly 2½ times as many in her standing army of 148,000 men, and besides has 361,000 men in reserve.

The United States proportionately has the smallest army in the world. The ratio of soldiers to total population is shown by the following:

	Soldiers Per 1,000 Population.
France	14.05
Germany	11.05
Austro-Hungary	8.07
Russia	6.01
Turkey	7.01
Great Britain	5.06
Italy	7.01
United States	0.86

We do not have one soldier for every thousand people.

Kansas Has Good Times.

EXPANSION POLICY.

WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY ACTUALLY STANDS FOR.

It Is Opportunity, the Dominion of Achievement, the Kingdom of Manly Labor—McKinley True to the Traditions of the American People.

[Special Washington Letter.]

More than 50 years ago "manifest destiny" was the watchword of American progress. Expansion was in the air, and, in fact, was the very breath of the American people. From that day to this "expansion" has animated our most progressive statesmen, and we might as well attempt to stop the flow of Niagara as to try to stop the growth, grandeur and mighty forces of America. In American veins flow the masterful blood of history—English, Scotch, Irish, German, French and Scandinavian, nation builders all—rugged as the heather covered granite hills of the highlands, gentle as the green vales of Killarney, dominant on land as are the English on the sea and with a love for native land as strong, deep and lasting as the German affection for the fatherland. There has not been an hour from the moment the pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth to the bright May day when Dewey humbled the flag of Spain in Manila bay when Americans have not been the missionaries of liberty.

The Revolutionary war was for liberty and expansion of land; the war of 1812 was for liberty and expansion on the sea; the Mexican war was for liberty and expansion to the west and south; the rebellion was for liberty and union everywhere, and the country is still in the morning of its history.

The imperialism of the American idea gave the French people power to throw off the old regime and enter into the dominion of individual sovereignty. It has made more than half a score of Latin American republics strung along the Andean mountain chain, every one of them children of American thought and of American example, and still sheltered under the strong arm of American protection. America never consulted with cowardice, or took counsel with the fearful. She rejoices as a strong man to run a race, and cares not how hard the task may be providing it be just.

The Republican policy which so long has guided the destiny of republican America has been just and generous, opening the door of opportunity to all, opening markets that looms may spin, furnaces blaze, chimneys smoke, trains fly and ships sail, making work, maintaining wages and paying honest toil and American skill the highest wages in the best money in the world.

The Republican party stands for the imperialism of opportunity, the dominion of achievement, the kingdom of manly labor, royal renumeration for loyal service. If this be imperialism let the enemies of the republic make the most of it. The party which freed the black man, gave work to the white man and deals justly with the brown man does not hesitate to go before the sovereign voters of the country and ask for indorsement.

President McKinley has been true to the traditions and instincts of the American people. He has continued the policy which Jefferson inaugurated, which Monroe continued, which Seward advanced, which Grant promoted, which Harrison championed and which the growth of the republic demanded. A policy which Cleveland could not change, for Hawaii is ours, Porto Rico is ours, the gate of Asia is ours to the glory of America and for the good of the natives who find shelter and protection under the spotless folds of our flag. This is the record and loyal Americans glory in it. The Republican party is not apostate to the spirit of the race, nor will it check the resistless march of liberty and free institutions.

Are the Americans of today the degenerate sons of noble sires? Our fathers carried the flag from the Alleghanies to the Pacific, from Kentucky to the gulf, from the Golden Gate to the frozen north, and with every advance the prophets of evil predicted the fall of the republic. But the republic grew in size, in strength and virtue. And there is something more beyond. There are more freedom to give, more schoolhouses to build, more truth to preach, more oceans to whiten with American commerce, more tasks to dare, and all the pessimism represented by Tammany Hall, the solid south, the anarchy of Chicago and the sophistry of the Platte cannot limit our growth, paralyze our commerce, stop our development or make us recreant to our manifest destiny.

The Kansas City platform, by denouncing expansion under the name of imperialism, indorsed the policy of Cleveland, who furled the flag at Honolulu. It returned to the old traditions of the sixties, when the country was urged to let the south go, to let the imperial republic be divided, to let slavery continue, to create a line of custom houses and block houses all along the Mason and Dixon line, which would have called for a standing army in the north and another in the south, and would have turned back the clock of progress and tolled the deathknell of human liberty everywhere. But no! Liberty and union triumphed. The severed country united. It commenced to grow. Railways were pushed to the sunset. Alaska became ours. Hawaii begged for adoption and we took her in. Guam joined the procession. The Philippines, just awake to the fact that one American promise is worth more than 16 Spanish bonds, sees the star of hope rising and looks for peace, prosperity and regeneration under the benign influence of American schools, American commerce, American laws and American justice. If this be imperialism let the Democrats make the most of it.

REV. A. G. WILSON CHANGES HIS FAITH

JOINED CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH YESTERDAY.

[illegible]kes the Step At a Meeting of [illegible]loit District Churches In Session at Clinton—He Has Contemplated This Action For Several [illegible]ears.

Unbeknown to the members of his congregation, Rev. A. G. Wilson, pastor of the Unitarian church in this city for the past year and a half, went to Clinton yesterday and then before the ministers assembled at the meeting of the Beloit convention of Congregational churches threw aside his Unitarian belief and joined the Congregational faith.

The news reached Janesville last evening and to the few Unitarians that were informed of the fact the news fell like a thunder bolt out of a clear sky.

Some time ago Rev. Wilson handed in his resignation as pastor of the local church but he remained at the head of the church for some time as an accommodation.

Although the leading members of his congregation were aware of the fact that Rev. Wilson was looking about for a change in pulpit yet is doubtful if a single one was aware that their divine was seriously considering the matter of leaving the church to join the ranks of the Congregationalists.

Rev. Jenkins Lloyd Jones, a former pastor of the Congregational church here and one of the most learned men of today, has for some time known of Rev. Wilson's change in belief and he encouraged him in his faith.

When seen by a Gazette representative this morning Rev. Wilson said: "Yes it is true that I have joined the Congregational ministry. Yesterday I went to Clinton and there I received a most cordial welcome. I read a paper then before the ministers assembled at the Beloit convention of the Congregational church setting forth my reasons for leaving the Unitarian church. I was then and there accepted as a member of the convention and I am now recognized as a Congregational minister eligible to a pastorate in the Congregational church.

"I have been considering this step for several years. For a long time I have felt that I could be more in harmony with that method and spirit of work in the Congregational church. The Congregational churches have come to look at all religious questions from a much broader standpoint and the best elements of the Unitarian and Congregational churches are now more in harmony than formerly. That is the main reason now why I can step over more readily.

"Since occupying the pulpit of the Unitarian church in Janesville I have not been as radical as some members of my congregation would have desired. As yet I have made no definite plans to leave Janesville".

Since occupying the pulpit of the local church Rev. Wilson has proved himself to be a most worthy man. Before coming to this city he preached at Decorah, Ia., where he was highly recommended. He has been a member of the Unitarian ministry for nine years. Previous to that time he was a member of the Methodist church and as a minister occupied the pulpits of that church for nine years.

Rev. Mr Wilson for some time occupied pulpits at St. Paul, Cleveland as at Spokane, Wash., where he preached as a Methodist minister for three years. Since being a resident of Janesville Rev. Wilson has made many friends who will regret much his intended departure from the city.

Registration is Not So Large as It Was Four Years Ago—Figures by Wards.

The registration for this presidential election is somewhat smaller than that of four years ago. There is a noticeable falling off in the first precinct of the First ward, and some in the Second ward; also, the second precinct of the Fourth, is considerable smaller. COOPER TO SPEAK AT OPERA HOUSE

REPUBLICANS EXPECT TO TENDER HIM A GREAT OVATION.

Indications That Hall Will Not Hold Half of People Who Will Turn Out to Hear Him—The Congressman Has Been Meeting With Success In His Tour of State.

The republicans of Janesville and vicinity will congregate at the opera house tonight to hear the Hon. H. A. Cooper speak. Mr. Cooper arrived in the city this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from Evansville where he spoke last night.

He was met at the depot by Thomas S. Nolan and O. F. Nowlan who escorted him to the Hotel Myers. He will speak tonight at the Opera House at eight o'clock and from all indications the house will not hold half the people who want to hear this gifted orator.

Arrangements have been completed whereby chairs will be placed on the stage and all the aged men who want to get close to the speaker can sit there. Seats will be reserved for all the prominent republicans. O. F. Nowlan will preside and present Mr. Cooper to the audience.

The Imperial band has been engaged to play and will delight the audience with several selections. The Bower City quartet will sing and Col. E. O. Kimberly will render some of his campaign songs.

Mr. Cooper has been meeting with unbounded success in his campaign tour through the state and everyone who has heard him speak is loud in his praise. The people all over the state turned out in overwhelming numbers to the rallys he has attended and the Janesville voters will undoubtedly be as anxious to hear him as the other people have been.

Before the meeting at the Opera House the Imperial band will parade up Milwaukee street and escort Mr. Cooper from the hotel to the Opera House.

Mr. Cooper at Evansville.

Evansville, Wis., Nov. 1.—Congressman H. A. Cooper addressed a large audience of attentive listeners last evening. His speech was one of the ablest and most thorough arguments ever made in the state and it aroused great enthusiasm. Mr. Cooper is one of the best political speakers in the state and his presentation of the issues was both convincing and entertaining.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM GIVEN LAST NIGHT

First Session of the Musical Literary Society At Caledonian Room—Pres. Rexford Appoints Committee.

The Musical-Literary society held its opening program last evening in the Caledonian rooms. There were not very many present but the program was excellent. President John G. Rexford presided and during the business meeting made some excellent remarks.

He appointed as program committee Mrs. J. F. Sweeney, Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. J. F. Pember, Miss Pond and J. S. Taylor.

The program last evening was very enjoyable. Miss Hawley sang "When Love Is Young" and the "Ring" by C. B. Hawley. Miss Pond played her accompainment. Mrs. Fanny R. Clarke sang "Under the Rose" by William Fisher. Her accompainment was played by Mrs. Stever. J. S. Taylor delighted them with Tschaikowski's "Serenade Don Juan." Harry Robinson sang in a pleasing manner "By Bendemeer's Stream" and "Stein Song."

Mrs. George Paris recited a poem with rare expression and finish and received hearty applause. Mrs. J. F. Pember read an article on "The Musical Millennium." There were well rendered piano solos by Miss Marie Paulson, Miss Elva Crawford and Mrs. J. F. Sweeney.

The next meeting of the society will be held in the Caledonian rooms on Monday evening, November 12.

PRANKS OF BOYS ON HALLOWE'EN

Ring Old High School Bell at Midnight, Tear Up Walks, and Other Foolish Little Tricks.

Last night was Hallow'een and a few of the boys around town braved the elements and tried to turn everything movable upside down. Chief Hogan had warned the boys that anything out of the ordinary would be punished and he succeeded in keeping them comparatively quiet. In a few localities, however, there were side walks torn up and the people who reside in the Third ward were awakened about midnight by the ringing of the old high school bell. [illegible] sidewalks leading to the school house were also torn up and ruined.

Some boys obtained a wagon someplace in the Fourth ward and distributed it in sections all over the ward. Parts of it were hung on convenient lamp posts and the box was taken down on River street.

A rather good joke was played on a young lady teacher by some of her pupils some time in the night. She heard a disturbance on the front porch and when she went out of doors this morning she was startled to see it proclaimed to all by a big sign on the house "Wanted a man with a diamond ring who will come to stay." It is needless to say that the sign is now in asnes and that certain high school boys are placed under a ban.

DEER SPORTSMEN WILL BE NUMEROUS

Janesville Will Be Well Represented In the Northern Forests This Year.

This city will be well represented this fall with deer hunters in the Wisconsin pineries. After election a party composed of the following local sportsmen expect to leave for several days outing in Oconto county: Sheriff W. H. Appleby, Dr. J. W. St. John, C. L. Valentine, J. A. Sutherland, S. Sutherland, T. W. Goldin and Dr. George Fifield. Several others are expected to make the trip.

The deer hunting season opens Nov. 1, and continues for twenty days. Already quite a number of hunters are on their way north and more will follow within the next few days. Thus far many non-residents have been granted license by the secretary of state to hunt deer in Wisconsin, and a large number of resident sportsmen will of course be out on the same quest. County Clerk F. P. Starr has issued 470 licenses this fall, the general permit extending to deer as well as all other game.

WAS A VERY JOLLY COMPANY

Mesdames Ruger and Miss Alice Ruger Give a Card Party.

With the wind and rain making it decidedly disagreeable outside, about fifty friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. William Ruger, Mrs. William Ruger, Jr., and Miss Alice Ruger, at their spacious home on the corner of South Bluff and South Second streets.

Invitations were issued for 2:30 o'clock, and it was a very jolly company that assembled at that time and proceeded to make merry over progressive six handed euchre. Two prizes were awarded, the lucky number prize being won by Mrs. H. W. Frick and the prize for the greatest number of lone hands going to Miss E. Louise Williams. Both prizes were rather unique, being potted palms.

At 5 o'clock cards were discarded, and the tables given up to a dainty luncheon. The luncheon was served in three courses, the hostesses being assisted by several of Miss Ruger's young lady friends.

FATHER ABANDONS HIS LITTLE BOY

COL. HALL BRINGS THE MEXICAN LAD TO EVANSVILLE.

He Ran Away From His Protector and This Morning Judge Sale Committed Him to the State School At Sparta—Little Fellow Pleased Over His Transfers.

In Judge J. W. Sales court this morning was enacted a sad scene that brought tears to the eyes of those in attendance. An 8-year-old boy that had been abandoned by his heartless father in Mexico was the defendant in the case. The boy's name is Louis Bonie and his appearance in court was for the purpose of providing him with a proper home.

When Colonel Hall and his Evansville circus men were in Mexico this 8-year-old boy and his father joined the show. All went well for awhile, but soon the father grew tired of the show business and one day he suddenly left for parts unknown. The boy still remained with the circus and made himself very useful for one of his tender years. The little fellow could speak only Spanish. As time wore on the show went from one town to another, each day working further north, but no word was received from Bonie.

Not wishing to leave the little Mexican Colonel Hall kindly took him to Evansville and cared for him. He was placed in the care of a family by the name of Sherman when he soon learned to speak the English language. But the boy soon grew discontented at the Sherman home and he again became the care of Colonel Hall.

Last Tuesday the boy got aboard the train at Evansville and came to this city where he was met and cared for by Officer Kenyon. This morning the court committed the boy to the Sparta school. When informed of where his future home was to be the little fellow was more than pleased.

REPLY TO THE ALLIANCE.

Hay's Answer to the Anglo-German Plan.

FIRST CLAUSES COMMENDED.

Accord with America's Previous Policy—Third Section, However, Calls for No Expression of Opinion—A Chance for Some Friction.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The state department today made public the British-German agreement respecting the maintenance of the "open door" and territorial integrity of China, with the answer of the United States government, sent in duplicate to each of the principals to the agreement. The reply follows:

Mr. Hay to Lord Pauncefote:

"Department of State, Washington, Oct. 29, 1900.—Excellency: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 23d of October, inclosing the text of an agreement between Great Britain and Germany relating to affairs in China, which was signed in London on the 16th instant by the Marquis of Salisbury and the German ambassador on behalf of their respective governments and inviting the acceptance by the United States of the principles recorded in that agreement.

"These principles are:

"'I. It is a matter of joint and permanent international interest that the ports on the rivers and littoral of China should remain free and open to trade and to every other legitimate form of economic activity for the nationals of all countries without distinction, and the two governments agree on their part to uphold the same for all Chinese territory so far as they can exercise influence.

"'II. Her Brittanic majesty's government and the imperial German government will not on their part make use of the present complication to obtain for themselves any territorial advantages in Chinese dominions and will direct their policy toward maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese empire.'

Previously Adopted by Us.

"The United States have heretofore made known their adoption of both these principles.

During the last year this government invited the powers interested in China to join in an expression of views and purposes in the direction of impartial trade with that country and received satisfactory assurances to that effect from all of them. When the recent troubles were at their height this government, on the 3d of July, once more made the announcement of its policy regarding impartial trade and the integrity of the Chinese empire, and had the gratification of learning that all the powers held similar views. And ince that time the most gratifying harmony has existed among all the nations concerned as to the ends to be pursued, and there has been little divergence of opinion as to the details of the course to be followed.

"It is therefore with much satisfaction that the president directs me to inform you of the full sympathy of this government with those of her Britannic majesty and the German emperor in the principles set forth in the clauses of the agreement above cited.

No Opinion on Third Clause.

"The third clause of the agreement provides:

"'III. In case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain under any form whatever such territorial advantages, the two contracting parties reserve to themselves to come to a preliminary understanding as to the eventual steps to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China.'

"As this clause refers to a reciprocal arrangement between the two high contracting powers, the government of the United States does not regard itself as called upon to express an opinion in respect to it. I have, etc.,
JOHN HAY.

A similar note, "Mutatis Mutandis," was addressed on the same day by the secretary of state to the imperial charge d'affaires.

Fear Felt in Pekin.

Pekin, Nov. 1.—Today, according to the Chinese calendar, is the ninth day of the ninth moon, which, according to rumor, is to mark the beginning of the final massacre of missionaries and other foreigners. The rumor has been affecting the foreigners and trivial incidents are being magnified. It is not believed by those best informed that there is much danger.

SLAIN BY EXPLOSION.

Lives Lost by Blowing Up of a Powder Magazine.

Shanghai, Nov. 1.—The Daily News reports that a powder magazine at Nankin has been exploded by lightning and that many persons were killed or injured and much property was destroyed.

New York, Oct. 31.—Authoratitive denial is made at Washington, says a Herald special, that the ministers in Pekin have already decided to demand $200,000,000 indemnity. It is stated that the matter has not yet been considered.

The ministers and Chinese envoys are trying to settle the punishment of the Boxer leaders, and it is learned that Mr. Conger is especially desirous to have Prince Tuan executed. It was stated last night by a high official that the president will be satisfied should Prince Tuan be degraded and exiled. Germany, however, wants him beheaded.

No very vigorous steps have yet been taken to estimate the indemnity China should pay the United States. The war department is preparing to collect information as to the cost of the expedition to China, representatives of the religious denominations whose missionaries were killed and injured and missions were destroyed are conferring with Messrs. Conger and Rockhill, and private citizens whose property was destroyed have submitted claims to the state department, but they all have notified that such action is premature.

Buys in Grand Trunk Road.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 1.—The sale of the Chicago & Grand Trunk railway properties under foreclosure of the first mortgage was made this afternoon and was bid in by Charles M. Hayes, general manager of the Grand Trunk, and E. W. Meddaugh, solicitor of the road, in the interest of the Grand Trunk Railway company of Canada for $5,708,701. This price exactly covers the amount due on the first mortgage bonds with interest to the present time. The sale was under an order of the United States Circuit court at Detroit to satisfy first, second and third mortgage bonds.

Large Imports of Sugar.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—The imports of sugar at this point during the month of October eclipsed the record for any corresponding period in the history of the port. More than 50,000 tons of a raw sugar have been delivered on the wharves of the sugar refineries since Oct. 1.

The arrivals have been nine steamships from Java and the far east, and three full-rigged American sailing ships from the Hawaiian islands. Enough material has been delivered here to insure the running on full time throughout the entire winter of the local refineries.

Polish Editors Under Arrest.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—For some time the Prussian government has been vigorously proceeding against anti-German agitators in Prussia's Polish provinces, and a considerable number of Polish editors have been imprisoned for such agitations. Today Ladislah Slemlatkowski, editor of the Praca, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for an offensive article.

Canada's Soldiers Return.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 1.—The transport Idaho with the homecoming Canadian soldiers from South Africa entered the harbor, and the cannon on the citadel roared a welcome.

Halloween at Horse Show.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Over 6,000 persons spent their Halloween at the horse show. It was the largest attendance of the week thus far. Society as usual was late and several classes had been judged before the boxes were filled. Most of those apparently who were present on the two previous nights were there, indicating increasing interest in the exhibitions as they become familiar with the various entries. As if to celebrate the old tradition of the night over forty splendid horses, wearers of ribbons already won, were led in parade around the tanbark arena.

Jury Convicts Rioter.

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Harvey Earle, the first of the riot prisoners tried in this city, was found guilty of the unlawful use of dynamite. He led the crowd to the place where the dynamite was obtained and assisted in putting it in place for exploding. The jury was out three hours.

MONGOOSE NOT WANTED.

Congress Passed a Law Excluding the Little Animal.

The fiat of the nation has gone forth against the mongoose. Before congress adjourned a bill was passed by both houses, prohibiting its importation, says the New York Herald. The pugnacious little animal is henceforth to be placed in the same category with the Chinese. The mongoose is a native of India. It is death to rats and snakes. For the destruction it works among these pests it is highly prized. But when it clears out the rats and snakes it betakes itself to birds and eggs and any sort of small game it can get hold of. That is why the department of agriculture classifies it as a noxious animal. Weighed in the balance, away from its native land, its vices are found to outweigh its virtues, and therefore it is to be kept out of Uncle Sam's broad domains. Thus far very few specimens of thee mongoose have been introduced into this country. The edict of exclusion is based mainly on the experiences of Jamaica. That island once suffered a plague of rats, which were particularly destructive in the cane fields. They were held responsible for an annual loss of something like $500,000. In February, 1872, nine individuals of the mongoose, four males and five females, were introduced from India. They increased with remarkable rapidity and soon spread all over the island, even to the tops of the highest mountains. They proved inveterate rat-destroyers. A decade after their introduction it was estimated that they were thus saving the sugar planters $225,000 per annum. And the mongoose was blessed. Still the mongoose increased, and its murderous habits became more and more apparent as the rats diminished. It destroyed young pigs, kids, lambs, puppies, kittens, poultry, game, birds, which nested on or near the ground, eggs, ground lizards, frogs, turtles' eggs and land crabs. It was also known to eat ripe bananas, pineapples, young corn, pears, sweetpotatoes, cocoanuts and other fruits. Toward the close of the second decade the mongoose came to be regarded as the worst pest ever introduced into the island—worse than the rats which it destroyed. Then the mongoose was officially anathematized.

Hawaii, where the mongoose was introduced in 1881, underwent a somewhat similar experience, and in 1892 a law was passed forbidding the introduction, breeding or keeping of the mongoose on the island.

All of which goes to show that the mongoose is a good animal to let alone where nature has placed it.

LIPTON PUTS PORK UP TO $20

That Price Paid at Close for Small Lot of October.

THE PROFIT IS $100,000.

Makes Many Private Settlements at $18 Before Bulge—Lipton Bought 75,000 Barrels at the Beginning of the Deal at $11 to $12.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Sir Thomas Johnson Lipton's little deal in October pork closed amid a blaze of glory. This was the way Samuel H. Dunham, Lipton's agent here, described the end yesterday. The profit is about $100,000. The price was $20, a jump of $3, but only one trade of 250 barrels was made at the top figure, and it looked like a prearranged affair. It had been intimated for several days that the price would be put to $20 at the last of October, and Lipton's instructions have been carried out to the letter. There was one trade in the morning at $17, and a number were made privately later at $18 in settlement, and there was more pork settled out of the pit at $18 than in it.

Lipton Paid the Top Price.

The buying at the start was 250 barrels at $17 by Weare. The next jump was to $18, a few trades being made in the pit, Jackson Bros. selling 500 barrels. Dare & Leland paid that figure to Lipton on the quiet, Samuel Dunham at the same time assuring them that the price would be put to $20 at the close, and he made good his word, as Sam Wolf, his backer, paid that figure for 250 barrels to George E. Gooch, a trader for Counselman & Day. In all, during the day 2,500 barrels were traded in, and the pork was all delivered in the afternoon, all contracts being closed, and the pork taken in and paid for by Lipton's brokers. There have been many private settlements within the past two weeks that the traders have not been notified of. The short interest at no time has been large, but the English yachtsman did not like to have it appear that he was unable to carry his deal through, and he held out until the last. The deal at no time assumed large proportions and Lipton's men have tried to keep it as quiet as possible.

Bought Originally 50,000 Barrels.

It has been estimated that Lipton bought 75,000 barrels from $11 to $12 at the beginning of the deal, but those in a position to know say that 50,000 barrels would be nearer correct. A profit of $2 a barrel on this quantity would make $100,000. The deal has been run without any great risk, as Lipton took the precaution to sell 20,000 barrels November about two months ago at $11.20, which insured him against loss on that quantity had he been unable to control the October. At the opening of the month, when it became known that Lipton had control of pork, there was an advance from $12 to $17. For the last three weeks prices moved between $14 and $16, with few open transactions. About 5,000 barrels have been brought in from outside packing points, as the price here made it profitable. Lipton has stripped about 10,000 barrels and sold the strips from 5¾c to 6⅜c.

Deal Has Been Satisfactory.

Samuel H. Dunham, when seen last night, said: "All the pork was settled. We sized up the shorts and made the price to suit their ability to pay. We did not want to be hard on any of them, and they are satisfied with the figures made in settlement."

"Will there be any November pork delivered today on your sales?" "I do not know, but there might be. Cash pork is selling at $11.25 and November is $10.50, so that there is no profit in delivering, while the cash is at a premium. I tis the same way in ribs. Cash ribs are $6.65 and November at a premium. It is the same way in satisfactory to us."

Wisconsin Man Honored.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—The Society of Arts of London has awarded its silver medal to Prof. R. W. Wood of the physics department of the Univeristy of Wisconsin in recognition of his work on the diffraction process of color photography. Prof. Wood visited England in February by special invitation of the society, presenting papers on this and other subjects before the principal learned societies of London.

Takes Hydro-Cyanic Acid.

Pawtucket, R. I., Nov. 1.—Dr. Michael W. Kelliher, a prominent physician of this city, ended his life in a sensational manner. He had been under indictment, charging him with conspiracy to defraud the Berkshire Life Insurance company of Pittsfield, Mass., out of $3,500, and the case was to have been heard on Saturday next. Dr. Kelliher took a full ounce of hydrocyanic acid and died instantly.

President Talks to Many.

Canton, O., Nov. 1.—Callers were numerous at the McKinley home, and when the president and Mrs. McKinley returned from their morning drive the porch was filled with people waiting to see them. The best known of the early arrivals was John W. Yerkes, Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky. He had an extended talk with the president.

Shot Dead in a Feud.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—William Jones was shot by George Mitchell in a North side grocery and is dead. The murder was the result of a feud, which had its origin six months ago in a quarrel over a pair of shoes.

Gas in Trees.

It is said that gas for lighting purposes is obtained from the leaves of the Australian gum tree, and in Germany, Russia, Norway, and other countries, gas made from wood has been introduced. Almost every tree may be said in a way to produce gas, for they all give off carbonic acid gas in greater or less quantities during the night.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake is Made By Many Janesville People

It's a common error to plaster the aching back, to rub with liniment rheumatic joints, when the trouble comes from the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills, and are endorsed by Janesville citizens.

Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 208 Locust St. journeyman carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."
